SUMMARY OF OUR INDUSTRY

India Facade Market:

The India facade market size reached US$ 2,638.2 Million in 2022. Looking forward, the publisher expects the market to reach US$ 4,254.5 Million by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 8.23% during 2023-2028. The increasing construction activities, rising number of commercial spaces, and the growing number of remodeling and upgradation projects represent some of the key factors driving the market.

The facade is an exterior front of a building that comprises roofing, street awnings, and ventilation louvers. It is produced using different materials, such as glass, brick, steel, aluminum, stone, concrete, metal, clay, and wood. It offers an aesthetic appeal to the building and enhanced waterproofing, fabrication, durability, and weather protection. It is generally used in energy efficient buildings for controlling light penetration, regulating internal temperature, and providing thermal insulation. It requires regular maintenance to ensure its longevity and functionality. It is commonly available in several shapes and sizes and can be created as per the requirements of the consumer.

India Facade Market Trends:

The increasing construction activities in the residential areas on account of rapid urbanization and inflating disposable income levels represent one of the key factors driving the demand for façades in India. Moreover, the rising number of commercial spaces, such as shopping malls, restaurants, cafes, offices, hotels, and institutions, is contributing to the market growth. In addition, due to the growing environmental concerns, several measures are being undertaken by the government of India (GoI) to promote the use of sustainable construction materials and minimize carbon emissions. This, coupled with the launch of various government-sponsored public housing programs due to the surging demand for affordable housing units, is driving the adoption of facades in the country. Apart from this, the increasing number of remodeling and upgradation projects for stadiums, airports, railway stations, metro, and hospitals is contributing to the market growth in the country. Furthermore, the rising popularity of polycarbonate facades in industrial and large-scale commercial buildings due to their numerous advantages, including easy installation, weather resistance, and low maintenance costs, is propelling the growth of the market. Besides this, key players operating in India are introducing facades in advanced materials, such as phase change materials (PCM), high reflectance and durable outdoor coatings, and insulation foams with improved strength and visually appealing texture. This, along with the advent of high quality facades that regulates temperature, protects against rain, and resists corrosion to ensure comfortable and durable building on account of changing climatic conditions like heat, humidity, and monsoon is strengthening the growth of the market.

- We source a large part of our new orders from our relationships with customers, both present and past. Any failure to maintain our long-standing relationships with our existing customers or forge similar relationships with new ones would have a material adverse effect on our business operations and profitability*

We believe that our focus on completing projects in a timely manner and on quality has helped us build strong relationships with our customers and bolster our reputation in the industry in which we operate. In fact, all of the projects that we execute for private sector clients are sourced through nomination i.e. where customers with whom we have an existing relationship or new customers approach us directly for their proposed projects. Further, we have received additional projects from several of our existing customers despite increased competition in the region within which we operate. If any of our relationships with our existing customers were to be altered or terminated and we are unable to forge similar relationships with new customers in the future, our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and business prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

- Our Registered Office and Branch Office of Our Company are not owned by us.*

We operate from our registered office situated N-75, Ground Floor, Mayfield Garden, Sector -51, Gurugram, Haryana. The same has been taken on lease from Mrs. Ruchika Saluja to use the place situated at N-75, Ground Floor, Mayfield Garden, Sector -51, Gurugram, Haryana as registered office for current lease period of 11 (Eleven) months commencing from September 01, 2023 to July 31, 2024 on monthly rent of Rs. 35,000 per month. Our Company has not changed its registered since incorporation.

Also, our Company is maintaining a branch office in Uttar Pradesh which is situated at Office No. 02, Ground Floor, Aakar Homz, Block A, Near A-24, Sector 68, Noida, GB Nagar, Uttar Pradesh-201301 and the same has taken from Mrs. Neetu Tiwari for a current lease period of 11 (Eleven) months commencing from 10th September, 2023 to 9th August, 2024 on monthly rent of Rs. 11,500 per month.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to continue the above arrangement on commercially acceptable / favourable terms in future. If we are required to vacate the current premises, we would be required to make alternative arrangements for new office and other infrastructure, and we cannot assure that the new arrangements will be on commercially acceptable/favourable terms. If we are required to relocate our business operations during this period, we may suffer a disruption in our operations or have to pay higher charges, which could have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

For further details please refer to section titled Our Business on page 106 of this Prospectus.

4. Our revenues have been significantly dependent on few customers and our inability to maintain such business may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

For the period ended March 31, 2021, March 31, 2022 and March 31, 2023 and for seven months ended 31st October, 2023, our revenue from operations from our top 10 customers contributed to 78.45%, 90.70%, 85.65% and 85.49% respectively of our revenues from operations as per our Restated Financial Statements. Our Company is primarily engaged in providing façade systems and solutions to customers and usually a single contract may take 6 months to three years for completion. As we operate on contract basis, our revenue from operations for a particular period may be concentrated in few clients or may be dependent on some large contracts. Larger contracts from few customers may represent a larger part of our portfolio, increasing the potential volatility of our results and exposure to individual contract risks. We may be vulnerable to accepting onerous contractual terms with regard to change in scope of work or inclusion of additional work within the scope of an existing contract. Such concentration of our business on a few projects or clients may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and result in a significant reduction in the award of contracts which could also adversely affect our business if we do not achieve our expected margins or suffer losses on one or more of these large contracts, from such clients. We cannot assure that we shall generate the same quantum of business, or any business at all, and the loss of business from one or more of them may adversely affect our revenues and results of operations. However, the composition and revenue generated from these customers might change as we continue to add new customers in the normal course of business. While we believe that we shall not face challenges in finding new customers in the ordinary course of business, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected if we remain dependent on few customers.

5. We are primarily dependent upon few key suppliers for procurement of materials. Any disruption in the supply of these materials or fluctuations in their prices could have a material adverse effect on our business operations and financial conditions.

We procure the material required for the development of facades. The major materials used in development of facades and other allied products are glass, aluminium composite panels, aluminum profiles, mild steel, GI sheet, sealant, gasket & hardwares, etc. We procure materials required in our installation of façade systems from domestic market. We procure a large portion of our material from few key suppliers, with whom we do not have any long-term supply contracts and therefore, we cannot assure you that we shall always have a steady supply of raw material at prices favourable to us. For the Fiscals 2021, 2022, 2023 and seven months ended October 31, 2023, purchases from our top ten suppliers represented 82.56%, 96.74%, 80.59% and 74.82% of our total purchases respectively. Inadequate supply of our material either by a sudden change in the prices or imposition of any new taxes or loss of any of our existing major vendors for any reason could have a material adverse effect on our business operations and profitability. If we cannot fully offset increases in the cost, we would experience lower margins and profitability, which would have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

6. We generate our major portion of sales from our operations in certain geographical regions especially Delhi, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh. Any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.

For the period ended March 31, 2021, March 31, 2022 and March 31, 2023 and for the seven months ended 31st October, 2023, our revenue from our customers situated in Delhi contributed 0.27%, 2.39%, 3.82% and 15.44% respectively, Haryana contributed 54.54%, 39.55%, 50.89% and 51.42% respectively and Uttar Pradesh contributed 34.67%, 22.56%, 42.57% and 33.14% respectively of our total revenue from operations as per our Restated Financial Statements. Such geographical concentration of our business in these regions heightens our exposure to adverse developments related to competition, as well as economic and demographic changes in these regions which may adversely affect our business prospects, financial conditions and results of operations. We may not be able to leverage our experience in these region to expand our operations in other parts of India and overseas markets, should we decide to further expand our operations. Factors such as competition, culture, regulatory regimes, business practices and customs, industry needs, transportation, in other markets where we may expand our operations may differ from those in such regions, and our experience in these regions may not be applicable to other markets. In addition, as we enter new markets and geographical areas, we are likely to compete not only with national players, but also local players who might have an established local presence, are more familiar with local regulations, business practices and industry needs, have stronger relationships with local dealers, relevant government authorities, suppliers or are in a stronger financial position than us, all of which may give them a competitive advantage over us. Our inability to expand into areas outside these market may adversely affect our business prospects, financial conditions and results of operations. While our management believes that the Company has requisite expertise and vision to grow and mark its presence in other markets going forward, investors should consider our business and prospects in light of the risks, losses and challenges that we may face and should not rely on our results of operations for any prior periods as an indication of our future performance. For further details please refer to section titled Our Business on page 106 of this Prospectus.

(Amount in Rs. Lakhs)

Particulars	31.10.2023	31.03.2023	31.03.2022	31.03.2021

Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If we are not able to generate sufficient cash flows in future, it may adversely affect our business and financial operations.

For further details please refer to section titled "Financial Information" on page 157 of this Prospectus.

10. Any corrosion and discolouration of facade system due to weather conditions and Air pollutants may affect our business operations and financial conditions.

Our business and operations are affected by seasonal factors, corrosion and discolouration of facade system due to weather conditions and Air pollutants. Any Corrosion in any façade related equipment, item, any seasonal change including monsoon season and Air pollutants, in the second quarter of each Fiscal may restrict our ability to carry on activities related to our projects and fully utilize our resources. Some states governments also pronounce the closure of constructions activities due to Air pollutants and during such period our projects may delay due to delay in completion of constructions. During periods of curtailed activity due to such adverse conditions, we may continue to incur operating expenses and our project related activities may be delayed or reduced. Such conditions may adversely affect our liquidity, business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

11. There has been sudden increase in our Inventory during the Financial year ended 31st March, 2023.

During the financial year ended 31st March, 2023, there has been an increase in our Inventory. Our Inventory has increased from Rs. 182.19 lakhs as on 31st March, 2022 to Rs. 596.45 Lakhs as on 31st March, 2023 which in on account of non-utilisation of material in our projects during the financial year ended 31st March, 2023. Similarly, our Inventory days has been increased from 52 in financial year 2021-22 to 177 days in financial year 2022-23.

We generally procure the materials on the basis of management estimates based on past requirements and future estimates. To effectively manage our inventory, we must be able to accurately estimate demand and supply requirements and purchase new inventory accordingly. However, if there is any kind of delay in execution of projects or any external factor or purchase of excess material, it could cause an accumulation of excess inventory which could have an adverse impact on our income and cash flows.

12. Our customers have a right to cancel the contract by giving a minimal notice on the occurrence of certain events. Any such cancellation may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our contracts usually provide for a right to our customer(s) to cancel the contract upon the occurrence of certain events such as, among other things, our failure to comply with the terms of the purchase order including specifications and other technical requirements; our failure to carry out the work as per the schedule or to maintain the acceptable quality of the workmanship or to observe the safety precautions at site or non-compliance of rules and regulations of local and government policies or non-compliance of any other conditions of the agreement. Further, our contracts may also provide that the customer shall not be responsible for any payment for any loss sustained by us by reason of our having purchased any materials or entered into any commitments or made any advances in connection with the execution of the contract. In the event any of the above events occur, our contract may be cancelled which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, such termination may also affect our reputation and growth prospects.

13. Our business requires the services of third parties, including suppliers and subcontractors, which entail certain risks.

Our business generally requires the services of third parties, including sub-contractors and suppliers of materials. The timing and quality of facade we install depends on the availability and skill of those third parties, as well as contingencies affecting them, including labour and material shortages and industrial action, such as strikes and lockouts. We cannot assure you that skilled third parties will continue to be available at reasonable rates and in the areas in which we need to execute our projects. As a result, we may be required to make additional investments or provide additional services to ensure the adequate performance and delivery of contracted services, and any delay in project execution could adversely affect our profitability. There is also a risk that we may have disputes with our subcontractors arising from, among other things, the quality and timeliness of work performed by the subcontractor, customer concerns about the subcontractor, or our failure to extend existing orders or issue new orders under a subcontract. In addition, if any of our subcontractors fail to deliver on a timely basis the agreed upon supplies and/or perform the agreed-upon services, our ability to fulfil our obligations as a prime contractor may be jeopardized. In most instances, there is no contractual relationship between our customers and our suppliers, subcontractors. Consequently, we would have to seek remedies from our suppliers or sub-contractors, as the case may be, should any service or product liability claim be made by our customers against us. In case of any such claim against us, even if it is not proven, our reputation may suffer and our business may be materially and adversely affected. We cannot assure you that claims of such nature will not be brought against us, which could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business and financial performance.

14. Our projects are typically awarded to us on following a competitive bidding process / quotation based process. Our business and our financial condition may be adversely affected if new projects are not awarded to us.

Our contracts are also obtained through a competitive bidding process or quotation-based process which sometimes involves certain prequalification criteria like experience, capacity and performance, reputation for quality, safety record, financial strength and bonding capacity and size of previous contracts in similar projects. In selecting contractors for major projects, customers generally limit the tender to contractors they have pre-qualified based on these criteria, although price competitiveness of the bid is the most important selection criterion. Our ability to bid for and win such projects is dependent on our ability to show experience of working on similar projects and developing strong execution capabilities and credentials to execute more challenging projects. The growth of our business mainly depends on our ability to obtain new contracts in the sectors in which we operate. Generally, it is very difficult to predict whether and when we will be awarded a new contract. Our future results of operations and cash flows can fluctuate materially from period to period depending on the timely award of contracts, commencement of work and completion of projects in the scheduled time period. If we fail to qualify or are unable to obtain new contracts, our business and financial condition could be adversely affected.

We may be unable to identify or acquire new projects and our bids for new projects may not always be successful, which may stunt our business growth. Further, any delay in the commencement or cancellation of the projects awarded to us may adversely affect our business, prospects, reputation, profitability, financial condition and results of operation.

15. Our revenues are derived primarily from contracts awarded to us on a project-by-project basis, and a significant number of projects in the construction industry are undertaken on a non-recurring basis.

In the event that we are not able to continually and consistently secure new projects of similar or higher value as the ones that we have executed in the past or are currently executing, and on terms and conditions that are favourable to us, our financial performance, our results of operations and cash flows may be adversely affected or fluctuate materially from time to time depending on the timing and nature of such contracts. Accordingly, it is difficult to predict whether and when we will be awarded a new project. If we are unable to identify or acquire new projects matching our expertise or profit expectations, we may be subject to uncertainties in our business.

16. Increase in costs or a shortfall in availability of the materials we purchase could have a material adverse effect on our Company's sales, profitability and results of operations.

Our Company is dependent on third party suppliers for procuring the materials which we use in executing our projects. We are exposed to fluctuations in the prices of these materials as well as its unavailability, particularly as we typically do not enter into any long term supply agreements with our suppliers and our major requirement is met in the spot market. The cost and availability of such materials are subject to a variety of factors and any increase in their cost and their availability at a reasonable price or at all, could adversely affect our margins, sales and results of operations. There can be no assurance that strong demand, capacity limitations or other problems experienced by our suppliers will not result in occasional shortages or delays in their supply of materials. If we were to experience a significant or prolonged shortage of such materials from any of our suppliers, and we cannot procure the products from other sources, we would be unable to meet our execution schedules and to deliver such products to our customers in timely fashion, which would adversely affect our sales, margins and customer relations. We cannot assure you that a particular supplier will continue to supply the required materials to us in the future. Any change in the supplying pattern of our products can adversely affect our business and profits. Though we enjoy favourable terms from the suppliers both in prices as well as in supplies, our inability to obtain high quality materials in a timely and cost-effective manner would cause delays in our execution cycles and delivery schedules, which may result in the loss of our customers and revenues.

17. The nature of our business exposes us to liability claims and contract disputes and our indemnities may not adequately protect us. Any liability in excess of our reserves or indemnities could result in additional costs, which would reduce our profits.

Time is often of the essence in our projects. We typically enter into contracts which provide for liquidated damages for time overruns. In the event there are delays in our current or future orders and we are unable to receive extensions from our customers, we may be exposed to liquidated damages and termination apart from entailing significant cost and time overruns. Additionally, in some contracts, in case of delay due to deficiency in services or because of defective work done by us, clients may have the right to complete the work at our risk and cost by engaging a third party. We are generally required to furnish performance guarantees in the form of bank guarantees. In the event we fail to perform under the terms of a contract, a bank guarantee may be called upon by our customer, which could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, our operations are subject to hazards inherent in providing fabrication services, such as risk of work accidents, fire or explosion, including hazards that may cause injury and loss of life, severe damage to and destruction of property and environmental damage. We may also be subject to claims resulting from defects arising from fabrication services provided by us within the warranty periods extended by us. Further, our subcontractors may not have adequate financial resources to meet their indemnity obligations to us. Failure to effectively cover ourselves against any of these reasons could expose us to substantial costs and potentially lead to material losses. Faults in design and execution might also require repair work, which may not be foreseen. In addition, if there is a customer dispute regarding our performance or workmanship, the customer may delay or withhold payment to us.

18. Our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected, if we are unable to collect our dues and receivables from, or invoice our unbilled services to, our clients.

Our business depends on our ability to successfully obtain payment from our clients of the amounts they owe us for work performed. We evaluate the financial condition of our clients and usually bill and collect on relatively short cycles. There is no guarantee that we will accurately assess the creditworthiness of our clients. Such conditions could cause clients to delay payment, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which could increase our receivables. Timely collection of fees for client services also depends on our ability to complete our contractual commitments and subsequently bill for and collect our contractual service fees. If we are unable to meet our contractual obligations, we might experience delays in the collection of, or be unable to collect, our client balances, and if this occurs, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected. Our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected, if we are unable to meet our contractual obligations, we might experience delays in the collection of, or be unable to collect, our client balances. In addition, if we experience delays in billing and collection for our services, our cash flows could be adversely affected.

19. Our pricing structures do not accurately anticipate the cost and complexity of performing our work and if we are unable to manage costs successfully, then certain of our contracts could be or become unprofitable

We negotiate pricing terms with our clients utilizing a range of pricing structures and conditions. Depending on the particular contract, we may use time-and-materials pricing, pursuant to which we typically invoice on periodical basis for the services that we provide to our client. In certain instances, we enter into time-and-materials pricing arrangements, but with the inclusion of fixed-price elements for certain specified services.

Our ability to improve or maintain our profitability is dependent on managing our costs successfully. Our cost management strategies include maintaining appropriate alignment between the demand for our products and services and our resource capacity, optimizing the costs of service delivery through business process digitalization and deployment of tools, and effectively leveraging our sales and marketing and general and administrative costs. Our contracts could prove unprofitable for us or yield lower profit margins than anticipated, if we do not accurately estimate the resources required, costs and timing for completing projects, future rates of wage inflation and currency exchange rates, or if we fail to complete our contractual obligations within the contracted timeframe. There is a risk that we will underprice our contracts, fail to accurately estimate the costs of performing the work or fail to accurately assess the risks associated with potential contracts. In particular, any increased or unexpected costs, or wide fluctuations compared to our original estimates or delays, or unexpected risks we encounter in connection with the performance of this work, including those caused by factors outside of our control, could make these contracts less profitable or unprofitable, which could adversely impact our profit margin. However, our contracts usually provide for escalation and delay charges clause to minimise such risks.

20. Failure to anticipate and develop new products & services and enhance existing execution capabilities in order to keep pace with rapid changes in technology and industry may suffer our business.

The facade industry is characterized by rapid technological changes, evolving industry standards, changing client preferences, and new product and service introductions that could result in product obsolescence and short product life cycles. Our success depends on our ability to anticipate these advances, enhance our existing offerings or develop new service offerings to meet client needs, in a timely manner. We may not be successful in anticipating or responding to these advances on a timely basis. It may also happen that the products or services or technologies we develop may not be successful in the marketplace. We may also be unsuccessful in stimulating customer demand for new and upgraded products & services, or seamlessly manage to introduce new products, service or transitions. If we fail to address the demands of the rapidly evolving IT environment, particularly with respect to emerging technologies, and technological obsolescence, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

21. The Company is yet to place orders for 100% of the Equipments for our proposed object, as specified in the Objects of the Issue. Any delay in placing orders, procurement of Equipments may delay our implementation schedule and may also lead to increase in price of these Equipments, further affecting our revenue and profitability.

Although we have identified the type of Equipments required to be bought for our upgradation and modernisation of existing facility, we are yet to place orders for 100% of the Equipments worth Rs. 251.12 lakhs as detailed in the – “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 72 of this Prospectus. These are based on our estimates and on third-party quotations, which are subject to a number of variables, including possible cost overruns, changes in management’s views of the desirability of current plans, change in supplier of equipments, among others, which may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Further, we cannot assure that we would be able to procure these Equipments, or procure the same within budgeted costs and timelines. Delays in acquisition of the same could result in the cost and time overrun in the implementation of the Project, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 72 of this Prospectus.

22. Any slowdown in the real estate sector in India could significantly decrease the demand for our products.

The demand for our products is dependent, among other things, on the conditions of the global and, in particular, the Indian economy. For instance, the demand for our products is significantly affected by the real estate sector. A decline in economic activity in India or in international markets may have an adverse effect on consumer and industrial demand for new infrastructural structures or complexes. If development of real estate declines, it would have a corresponding impact on the demand for our products leading to lower margins or slack in project executions and may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and business prospects.

23. Any delay in completion of civil structure by the principal contractor or third parties involved or the customer could result in delay of our project execution and consequently affect our business operations.

We are primarily engaged in designing, drawing, fabricating and installation of façade systems at various civil structure sites. We are dependent on the principal contractor and other parties to carry out their scope of work so as to enable us to initiate our project execution. In the life cycle of a construction project, there are phases which needs to be completed by other respective parties post which we can start our work. Any delay in execution of work by such parties may result in consequent delay in our project execution and may hinder our business operations adversely. Also, if there is any delay from the customer like delay in approval of plans of the project, delay in starting the construction activity, delay in release of payments etc. we may also suffer a delay in our project execution or cash flows which may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

24. We have entered into and may continue to enter into related party transactions and there can be no assurance that such transactions have been on favourable terms.

We have entered into certain transactions with related parties may continue to do so in future. While our Company believes that all such transactions have been conducted on arms-length basis and is in compliance with the Companies Act and other applicable laws, there can be no assurance that it could not have been achieved on more favourable terms had such transactions not been entered into with related parties. Furthermore, it is likely that our company will enter into related party transactions also in the future. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operation. For details, please refer to “Annexure - Related Party Transactions” of restated consolidated financials under section titled “Financial Information” on page 157 of the Prospectus.

25. Our Promoters, Directors and Key Management Personnel have interest in our Company, other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or remuneration.

Our Promoters, Directors and Key Management Personnel can be deemed to be interested to the extent of the Equity Shares held by them, or their relatives, dividend entitlement, or loans advanced, provided by them to/for the Company, and benefits deriving from the directorship in our Company. Our Promoters are interested in the transactions entered into between our Company and our Promoter Group. For further information, please refer to the chapters titled “Our Business”, “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” and “Annexure” Related Party Transactions”, beginning on pages 106, 149 & 157 respectively of this Prospectus.

26. Our industry may be materially adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or those of our suppliers

We believe that the industry in which we operate faces competitive pressures in recruiting and retaining skilled and unskilled labour. Our industry being labour intensive is highly dependent on labour force for carrying out its business operations. Shortage of skilled/unskilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. We have not experienced any major disruptions to our business operations due to disputes or other problems with our work force in the past; there can be no assurance that we will not experience such disruptions in the future. Such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations and may also divert the management's attention and result in increased costs. India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Although our employees are not currently unionized, there can be no assurance that they will not unionize in the future. If our employees unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible labour policies, and we may face the threat of labour unrest, work stoppages and diversion of our management's attention due to union intervention, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

27. If we are unable to source business opportunities effectively, we may not achieve our financial objectives.

Our ability to achieve our financial objectives will depend on our ability to identify, evaluate and accomplish business opportunities. To grow our business, we will need to hire, train, supervise and manage new employees and to implement systems capable of effectively accommodating our growth. However, we cannot assure you that any such employees will contribute to the success of our business or that we will implement such systems effectively. Our failure to source business opportunities effectively could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. It is also possible that the strategies used by us in the future may be different from those presently in use. No assurance can be given that our analyses of market and other data or the strategies we use or plans in future to use will be successful under various market conditions.

28. Improper handling, processing or storage of our materials and damage to such materials and products, could damage our reputation and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our services as well as the products are subject to risks during their storage or installation. Any shortcoming in the production or storage of our products due to negligence, human error or otherwise, may damage our products and result in noncompliance with applicable quality standards. Any allegation that our products do not match requisite quality standards could damage our reputation, adversely affect our sales and result in legal proceedings being initiated against us, irrespective of whether such allegations have any factual basis.

We sell our products, directly to customers and if the products sold by those customers are found to be faulty on account of our products, our customers may return our goods, terminate their relationships with us and initiate legal proceedings against us. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to such product liability claims in the future. Should any of our products be perceived or found to be faulty, we may be subject to regulatory action, product recalls and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We may also be exposed to liability from consumers for defects in the quality of our products, which may be occasioned by defects or damage to our products or service. Significant liabilities could adversely affect our reputation, sales revenues and results of operations.

29. We are susceptible to risks relating to fluctuations in currency exchange rates.

We export facade related material, aluminium composite panels, some hardware items, etc. Any fluctuation in the value of the Indian Rupee against any other foreign currency will affect our results of operations. Further, we currently do not use any foreign exchange hedging contracts to manage our exchange rate risk. Although we may, in the future, enter into such foreign exchange hedging contracts, we cannot assure you that such hedges will be available or commercially viable or effective to hedge our exposure to foreign currency risks. In addition, the policies of the RBI may also change from time to time, which may limit our ability to effectively hedge our foreign currency exposures and may adversely affect our costs of works contracts and financial results. We cannot guarantee that we will not experience foreign exchange losses going forward and that such losses will not adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

30. Our operations are subject to accidents and other risks and could expose us to material liabilities, loss in revenues and increased expenses. Further glass being a fragile commodity is also susceptible to breakages.

While we conduct various scientific and site studies during the course of bidding for projects, there are always anticipated or unforeseen risks that may come up due to adverse weather conditions, geological conditions, specification changes and other reasons. Additionally, our operations are subject to hazards inherent in providing fabrication and construction services, such as risk of equipment failure, work accidents, fire or explosion, including hazards that may cause injury and loss of life, severe damage to and destruction of property and equipment, and environmental damage. Also our input material glass being a fragile commodity is susceptible to breakages. Our policy of covering these risks through contractual limitations of liability, indemnities and insurance may not always be effective and this may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

31. We require a number of approvals, licenses, registration and permits for our business and failure to obtain or renew them in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

We may require several statutory and regulatory permits, licenses and approvals in the ordinary course of our business, some of which our Company has either received, applied for or is in the process of application. Many of these approvals are granted for fixed periods of time and need renewal from time to time. There can be no assurance that the relevant authorities will issue any of such permits or approvals in the timeframe anticipated by us or at all. Any failure by us to apply in time, to renew, maintain or obtain the required permits, licenses or approvals, or the cancellation, suspension, delay in issuance or revocation of any of the permits, licenses or approvals may result in the interruption of our operations and may have a material adverse effect on the business. For further details, please see chapters titled “Key Industry Regulations and Policies in India” and “Government and Other Approvals” at pages 122 and 182 respectively of this Prospectus.

32. If we fail to maintain and enhance our brand and reputation, our clients’ recognition of, and trust in us, and our business may be materially and adversely affected.

Our business depends significantly on the strength of our brand and reputation of completing our projects in a timely and efficient manner. Our Company is known to conduct operations in a manner that ensures that our projects are free of any defects or vulnerabilities. We believe that continuing to develop awareness of our brand, through focused and consistent branding and marketing initiatives is important for our ability to increase our revenues, grow our existing market share and expand into new markets. Consequently, defects, delays, consumer complaints, or negative publicity or media reports involving us, or any of our projects could harm our brand and reputation and may dilute the impact of our branding and marketing initiatives and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

In addition, adverse publicity about any regulatory or legal action against us could damage our reputation and brand image, undermine public confidence in us and reduce long-term demand for our operations, even if the regulatory or legal action is unfounded or immaterial to our operations. We may be involved in costly lawsuits or time consuming regulatory proceedings. If we are unable to neutralise the impact of such negative publicity effectively or efficiently, we may suffer damage to our reputation and relationships with our clients, lenders, suppliers and communities and experience significant project delays or cost overruns.

33. Changes in technology may render our current technologies obsolete or require us to make substantial investments.

Modernization and technology up gradation is essential to reduce costs and increase the output. Our equipment may become obsolete or may not be upgraded timely, hampering our operations and financial conditions and we may lose our competitive edge. Although we believe that we use updated technology, we shall continue to strive to keep our technology, equipment in line with the latest technological standards. In case of a new found technology in the brass components or other products, we may be required to implement new technology or upgrade the machineries and other equipment’s employed by us. Further, the costs in upgrading our technology and modernizing the same may be significant which could substantially affect our finances and operations.

34. The industry segments in which we operate being fragmented, we face competition from other players, which may affect our business operations and financial conditions.

The market for our products and services is competitive on account of both the organized and unorganized players. Players in this industry generally compete with each other on key attributes such as technical competence, quality of products and services, designing and execution, pricing and timely delivery. Some of our competitors may have longer industry experience and greater financial, technical and other resources, which may enable them to react faster in changing market scenario and remain competitive. Moreover, the unorganized sector offers their products & services at highly competitive prices which may not be matched by us and consequently affect our revenue from operations and growth prospects. Growing competition may result in a decline in our market share and may affect our margins which may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

The range of inventory holding period from 189 days in F.Y 2020-21, 52 days in F.Y 2021-22, 177 days in F.Y 2022-23. The increases in inventory holding period marginally to 178 days in F.Y 2023-24 and F.Y 2024-25 indicates that Company maintains the strict Inventory maintenance policy in line with existing holding period as we aim to get and complete more projects in a timely manner.

This increase in payables is necessary to accommodate the larger volume of purchases required to support the business growth. The Company Trade Payable ranges between 114 days in FY 20-21, 61 days in FY 21-22 & 107 days in FY 2022-23. The Company is expecting to keep Trade Payable days in FY 23-24 to 107 days & in FY 2024-25 to 106 days consequent to increase in payables on account of overall business operations.

Short-Term Loans & Advances	In routine business, Company has to make various short-term advances for the material and other third- party services to be used during the façade operations. Accordingly, in line with increase in business operations, there will be need to purchase materials and services by making advance payments to enhance cost efficiency of products, thereby there will be increase in short term loan and advances.
Other Current Liabilities	We have reserved some fund for the purpose of paying of loan installments, interest, daily expenses, operation cost for maintenance, duties & taxes.

As on date of this Prospectus, company has some On-going projects at various locations. These On-going projects typically span from 6 months to 3 years. Completion of our projects that require longer time, results into higher working capital requirement as raw material for construction, Equipments rentals and other cost will be engaged for longer time which requires significant amount of Working Capital.

Further, we usually have to cover costs upfront or at various stages of the project before receiving payment from clients. This time gap between expenditures and revenue generation increases the need for working capital. To achieve projected financial figures, company is required to maintain sufficient amount of working capital in order to ensure smooth operations.

Further, our purchase mainly includes glass, aluminium composite panels, aluminum profiles, mild steel, GI sheet, sealant, gasket & hardwares etc. which require us to timely pay our suppliers, firstly to avoid fluctuation in availability and changes in rates which can increase our cost. So, to complete our projects, our working capital gets tied for longer time period. Our customers include Schools, financial institutions, hospitality installations, corporate buildings etc. to whom we may sometime need to give a certain higher credit period in order to remain in competitive market, thus affecting our working capital requirement. We believe that funding our working capital requirements from the Issue Proceeds will lead to a consequent increase in our profitability due to saving in the cost as Company keep negotiating favorable terms with the suppliers.

A Chartered accountant has, pursuant to a certificate dated 8th December, 2023, certified the working capital requirements of our Company for the FY 2023-24 and FY 2024-25 as approved by the Board of Directors in its meeting held on 8th December, 2023.

GLOBAL PROSPECTS AND POLICIES

More than three years after the global economy suffered the largest shock of the past 75 years, the wounds are still healing, amid widening growth divergences across regions. After a strong initial rebound from the depths of the COVID-19 pandemic, the pace of recovery has moderated. Several forces are holding back the recovery. Some reflect the long-term consequences of the pandemic, Russia's war in Ukraine, and increasing geoeconomic fragmentation. Others are more cyclical, including the effects of monetary policy tightening necessary to reduce inflation, withdrawal of fiscal support amid high debt, and extreme weather events.

Despite signs of economic resilience earlier this year and progress in reducing headline inflation, economic activity is still generally falling short of pre-pandemic (January 2020) projections, especially in emerging Market and developing economies (Figure 1.1, panel 1).

The strongest recovery among major economies has been in the United States, where GDP in 2023 is estimated to exceed its pre-pandemic path. The euro area has recovered, though less strongly—with output still 2.2 percent below pre-pandemic projections, reflecting greater exposure to the war in Ukraine and the associated adverse terms-of-trade shock, as well as a spike in imported energy prices. In China, the pandemic-related slowdown in 2022 and the property sector crisis contribute to the larger output losses of about 4.2 percent, compared with pre-pandemic predictions. Other emerging market and developing economies have seen even weaker recoveries, especially low-income countries, where output losses average more than 6.5 percent. Higher interest rates and depreciated currencies have exacerbated the difficulties of low-income countries, placing more than half either at high risk of distress or already in distress. Overall, global output for 2023 is estimated at 3.4 percent (or about $3.6 trillion in 2023 prices) below pre-pandemic projections.

Private consumption has also recovered faster in advanced economies than in emerging market and developing economies, owing to an earlier reopening in the former group facilitated by greater availability of effective vaccines, stronger safety nets, more ample policy stimulus, and greater feasibility of remote work. These factors supported livelihoods during the pandemic, and household consumption is now broadly back to pre-pandemic trends. Among advanced economies, private consumption has been stronger in the United States than in the euro area, with households receiving larger fiscal transfers early in the pandemic and spending the associated savings more quickly; being better insulated from the rise in energy prices resulting from the war in Ukraine; and feeling relatively confident amid historically tight US labor markets, which have supported real disposable incomes (Figure 1.1, panel 2). Among emerging market and developing economies, the consumption shortfall is particularly large in China, reflecting tight restrictions on mobility during the COVID-19 crisis.

Divergences in labor market performance across regions broadly mirror those for output and consumption. Employment and labor participation rates are estimated to exceed prepandemic trends in advanced economies but to remain significantly below them in emerging market and developing economies, reflecting more severe output losses and much weaker social protection. Countries that had the most limited fiscal space are also those where employment shortfalls are the largest (ILO 2023). Among advanced economies, the euro area has seen larger employment gains than the United States. This may reflect more extensive use in the former of worker-retention programs modelled on the German Kurzarbeit short-time work scheme (IMF 2020), which protect workers' income and allow businesses to retain firm-specific human capital, reducing the costly process of separation, rehiring, and training. In the euro area, these programs bolstered employment during the most challenging phases of the crisis and accelerated the recovery when economies reopened (Figure 1.1, panel 3).

Investment, on the other hand, has uniformly fallen short of prepandemic trends across regions. Businesses have shown less enthusiasm for expansion and risk taking amid rising interest rates, withdrawal of fiscal support, dimmer prospects for product demand, stricter lending conditions, and growing uncertainties regarding geoeconomic fragmentation. Higher leverage has further dampened investment (see Chapter 2 of the April 2022 World Economic Outlook [WEO]), which remains 3 percent to 10 percent lower across regions than had been projected before the pandemic (Figure 1.1, panel 2). Moreover, the pandemic, war in Ukraine, and worsening climate shocks have contributed to a reversal in decades-long poverty reduction trends. According to World Bank staff estimates (Mahler and others 2022), 75 million to 95 million more people were living in extreme poverty in 2022 compared with prepandemic estimates. Spikes in food prices and related insecurities following Russia's invasion of Ukraine, as well as bouts of extreme weather, have accentuated these difficulties. The global average temperature in July 2023 was the highest on record for any month, amid reports of catastrophic flooding, heat waves, and wildfires in many regions. Overall, the global prevalence of undernourishment is significantly higher than before the pandemic (FAO and others 2023).

Resilient Start to 2023, Signs of Slowdown

Despite these persistent challenges, several headwinds to global growth subsided earlier this year. The World Health Organization announced in May that it no longer considered COVID-19 a global health emergency, and infections and hospitalizations appear to remain relatively limited, despite a recent uptick in some regions. Supply chains, which the pandemic disrupted, have largely normalized, with shipping costs and suppliers' delivery times back to prepandemic levels (Figure 1.2). And global financial conditions eased after Swiss and US authorities took strong action in March to contain turbulence in their banking sectors. Amid these conditions, global GDP expanded by 3.4 percent in the second quarter of 2023 compared with a year earlier—outperforming forecasts, including those in the April 2023 WEO. The resilience reflected strong consumption amid tight labor markets in the United States and robust activity in economies with large travel and tourism sectors, such as Italy, Mexico, and Spain. These developments offset a slowdown in more interest-rate-sensitive manufacturing sectors.

Source: de Soyres, Moore, and Ortiz (2023).
 Note: Stock begins accumulating from 0 at $t = -1$, in which $t = 0$ is the first period of low growth due to COVID-19. Excess savings are calculated as deviation from the predicted saving rate using a Hamilton trend.

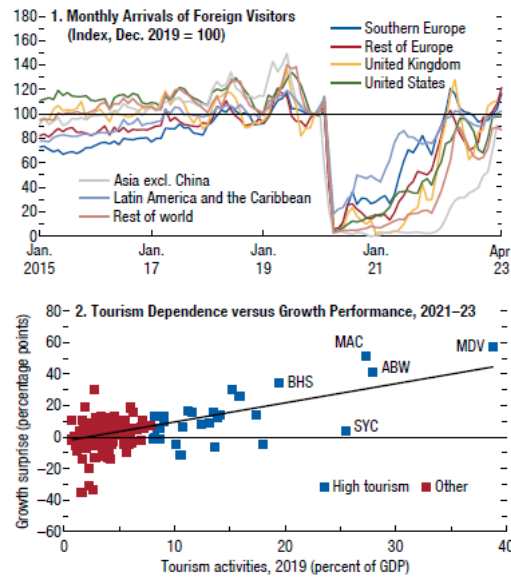

That said, there are signs the rebound is fading:

Diminishing pandemic-era savings: The stock of savings built during the pandemic, which has so far supported consumers, is declining in advanced economies, especially the United States, as illustrated in Figure 1.3.1 This implies fewer resources for households to draw on as they contend with a still-elevated cost of living and more restricted credit availability in the context of monetary tightening aimed at reducing inflation.

Slowing catch-up in services, including travel: International tourist arrivals are approaching prepandemic levels in most regions (Figure 1.4, panel 1). The recovery of travel during 2021–23 has come with especially strong economic growth in economies with a large share of tourism activities in GDP (Figure 1.4, panel 2). These economies had suffered especially sharp contractions in GDP at the onset of the pandemic (Milesi-Ferretti 2021). But with the recovery in tourism maturing, the boost to growth is waning.² Leading indicators for services now indicate weaker growth or declining output (Figure 1.5, panel 2) in economies that previously enjoyed a strong rebound.

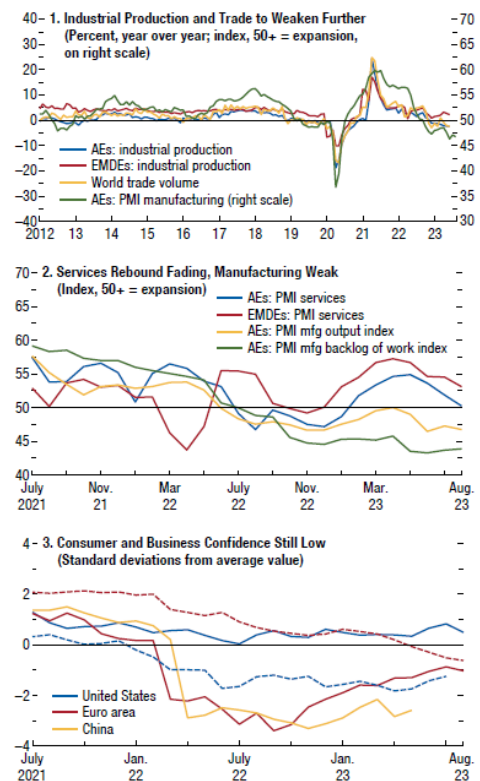

Persistent manufacturing slowdown: Recent data releases point to a wide-ranging slowdown or contraction in the manufacturing sector, with related declines in industrial production, investment, and international trade in goods. This weakness reflects the combined effects of the postpandemic shift in consumption back toward services, weaker demand stemming from a higher cost of living, the unwinding of crisis policy support, tighter credit conditions, and general uncertainty amid intensified geoeconomic fragmentation (Figure 1.5, panel 1). Part of the slowdown is policy induced—the result of the globally synchronous central bank tightening of monetary conditions to restore price stability. Signs that tightening efforts are paying off are increasingly apparent, with global inflation steadily declining from its multidecade peak in 2022 amid tighter credit availability and cooling housing markets. Part of the slowdown also reflects more idiosyncratic developments, such as the property sector crisis in China.

Outlook: Stable but Slow

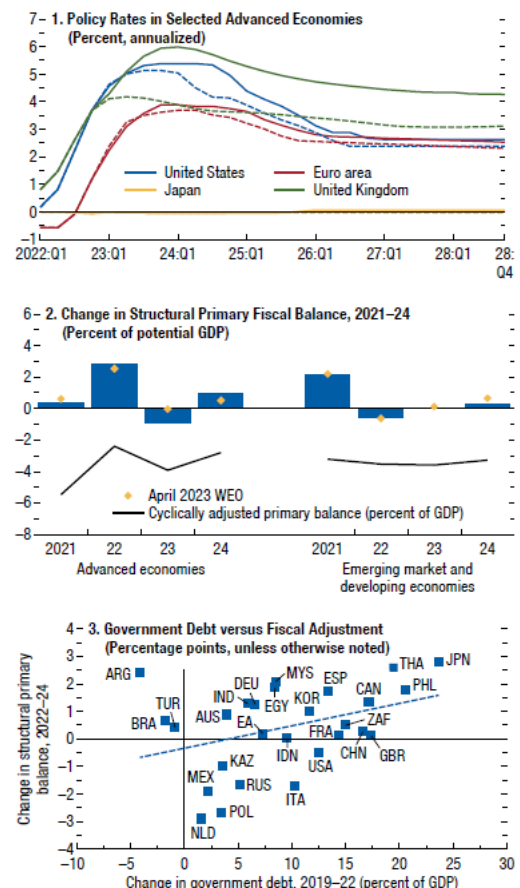

The latest projections confirm that the global economy is slowing as inflation declines from last year’s multidecade peak. A contraction in global per capita real GDP – which often happens in a global recession – is not part of the baseline scenario. Growth and employment in the first half of the year remained more resilient than forecast in the April 2023 WEO. Although there is little change in the forecast for the global average since the July 2023 WEO Update, several shifts in growth and inflation prospects are observed across countries. In addition, medium-term prospects for economic growth remain the lowest in decades, with middle- and lower-income countries facing a slower pace of convergence toward higher living standards.

The baseline forecasts for the global economy are predicated on a number of assumptions (Figure 1.16), notably for fuel and nonfuel commodity prices, as well as the stances of monetary and fiscal policy:

Commodity price assumptions: Prices of fuel commodities are projected to fall on average by 36 percent and oil prices by about 17 percent, with the decreases reflecting mainly the slowdown in global economic activity, and natural gas and coal prices to decline from their 2022 peaks by 61 percent and 51 percent, respectively. The forecast for nonfuel commodity prices is a decline of 6.3 percent, on average, in 2023, with prices for base metals expected to decrease by 4.7 percent, the decreases reflecting concerns regarding real estate investment in China. Food commodity prices, after rising by 14.8 percent in 2022, are predicted to decline by 6.8 percent in 2023, with prices remaining well above their 2021 levels. Compared with forecasts in the July 2023 WEO Update, an upward revision to wheat prices following the suspension of the Black Sea Grain Initiative (which occurred after the July 2023 WEO Update forecasting round) is broadly offset by downward revisions to other food commodity prices.

Monetary policy assumptions: Global interest rate assumptions are on average revised upward compared with those in the April 2023 WEO, reflecting actual and signaled policy tightening by major central banks. The Federal Reserve’s policy rate is expected to peak at its current level of about 5.4 percent, the Bank of England to raise its to peak at about 6.0 percent, and the European Central Bank to raise its to peak at 3.9 percent in 2023, before all three reduce rates in 2024. The higher policy path over the longer term has contributed to the rise in long-term policy rate assumptions. For Japan, policy rates for the medium term (2026–28) are revised upward, reflecting changes to the country’s yield-curve-control framework, and long-term rates are revised upward accordingly. As near-term inflation expectations decline, real interest rates are likely to stay elevated even after nominal rates start to fall. In addition, changes in monetary policy are becoming less synchronous, with some central banks that tightened policy earlier (such as the Central Bank of Brazil) initiating their easing cycle.

 Note: In panel 1, solid lines denote assumptions for the October 2023 WEO and dashed lines for the April 2023 WEO. In panel 2, the cyclically adjusted primary balance is the general government balance (excluding interest income or expenses) adjusted for the economic cycle. The structural primary fiscal balance is the cyclically adjusted primary balance corrected for a broader range of noncyclical factors, such as changes in asset and commodity prices. Data labels in the figure use International Organization for Standardization (ISO) country codes. EA = euro area; WEO = World Economic Outlook.

Fiscal policy assumptions: Governments in advanced economies are on average expected to ease fiscal policy in 2023, following a rise in fiscal balances in 2022, whereas in emerging market and developing economies, the projected fiscal stance is on average neutral. Fiscal consolidation is expected in 2024 in both groups of economies. Fiscal tightening is on average expected to be greater in economies that recently experienced a sharper rise in government debt (Figure 1.16, panel 3). A rise in government debt amounting to 10 percentage points of GDP during 2019–22 is associated on average with fiscal consolidation (rise in the structural primary balance) of 0.8 percentage point of GDP during 2022–24. Exceptions to this pattern include, for example, Argentina, where despite a decline, debt levels remain high, and the fiscal stance is expected to continue tightening to secure fiscal and debt sustainability.

Growth Outlook: Offsetting Divergences

Global growth is projected to fall from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3.0 percent in 2023 and 2.9 percent in 2024 on an annual average basis (Table 1.1). There is a downward revision of 0.1 percentage point for 2024 compared with the July 2023 WEO Update projection. At the same time, there are more sizable changes in the underlying growth trajectories of major economies, with stronger projections for the United States and downward revisions for China and the euro area. The forecasts for growth during 2023–24 are also slower than those before the onset of the shocks of 2020–22 (Figure 1.17): the January 2022 WEO Update projected global growth at 3.8 percent in 2023 and 3.4 percent in 2024. The 2023–24 forecasts are also below the historical (2000–19) annual average of 3.8 percent. Growth is below the historical average across broad income groups, both in overall GDP as well as in per capita GDP. On a year-over-year basis, global growth bottomed out in the fourth quarter of 2022. However, in some major economies, it is not expected to have bottomed out until the second half of 2023.

Advanced economies continue to drive the decline in annual average growth from 2022 to 2023, with stronger services activity offset by weaker manufacturing, as well as idiosyncratic factors. On average, these economies are expected to have broadly stable growth in 2024 with a pickup in 2025. By contrast, emerging market and developing economies, on average, are projected to see stable growth over 2022–24, with a slight pickup in 2025, although with sizable shifts across regions.

Growth Forecast for Advanced Economies

For advanced economies, the growth slowdown projected is significant – from 2.6 percent in 2022 to 1.5 percent in 2023 and 1.4 percent in 2024 – with no overall revision from the July 2023 WEO Update, amid stronger-than-expected US momentum and weaker-than-expected growth in the euro area. About 90 percent of advanced economies are projected to see lower growth in 2023. With the projected slowdown in advanced economies, annual unemployment is projected to rise by an average of 0.1 percentage point over 2022–24, although with more pronounced increases in Canada (1.0 percentage point), the United Kingdom (0.9 percentage point), and the United States (0.2 percentage point). Nevertheless, the forecast for unemployment in 2024 is on average 0.4 percentage point lower than that in the April 2023 WEO, reflecting still-tight labor markets in a number of cases.

In the United States, growth is projected at 2.1 percent in 2023 and 1.5 percent in 2024. The forecast is revised upward by 0.3 percentage point for 2023 and by 0.5 percentage point for 2024, compared with July 2023 WEO Update projections, owing to stronger business investment in the second quarter and resilient consumption growth, a reflection of a still-tight labor market. In addition, as already mentioned, the general government fiscal stance is expected to be expansionary in 2023. However, with wage growth slowing, savings accumulated during the pandemic running out, and the Federal Reserve maintaining tight monetary policy, growth is expected to slow in the second half of 2023 and in 2024. The unemployment rate is forecast to rise from 3.6 percent in the second quarter of 2023 to a peak of 4.0 percent by the last quarter of 2024—a lower peak than previously projected (5.2 percent in the April 2023 WEO and 5.6 percent at the time of the October 2022 WEO), consistent with a softer landing than earlier expected for the US economy.

Growth in the euro area is projected to fall from 3.3 percent in 2022 to 0.7 percent in 2023, before rising to 1.2 percent in 2024. The forecast is revised downward by 0.2 percentage point and 0.3 percentage point for 2023 and 2024, respectively, compared with July 2023 WEO Update projections. There is also a divergence in growth across major euro area economies in 2023. For Germany, where a slight economic contraction is now projected in the second half of 2023, amid weakness in interest- rate-sensitive sectors and slower trading-partner demand, there is a downward revision of 0.2 percentage point to growth of -0.5 percent. For France, where there was catch-up in industrial production and external demand outperformed in the first half of 2023, there is an upward 0.2 percentage point revision to growth of 1.0 percent.

Among other major advanced economies, there is also some divergence in growth. Growth in the United Kingdom is projected to decline from 4.1 percent in 2022 to 0.5 percent in 2023, with a 0.1 percentage point upward revision. The decline in growth reflects tighter monetary policies to curb still-high inflation and lingering impacts of the terms-of-trade shock from high energy prices. In Japan, growth is projected to rise from 1.0 percent in 2022 to 2.0 percent in 2023, with a 0.6 percentage point upward revision, buoyed by pent-up demand, a surge in inbound tourism, and accommodative policies, as well as by a rebound in auto exports that had earlier been held back by supply chain issues.

Growth Forecast for Emerging Market and Developing Economies

For emerging market and developing economies, growth is projected to decline relatively modestly, from 4.1 percent in 2022 to 4.0 percent in both 2023 and 2024, with a downward revision of 0.1 percentage point for 2024 compared with the July 2023 WEO Update projection. However, this average path hides regional divergences, with growth in two of the five main geographic regions rising in 2023 and then falling in 2024.

Growth in emerging and developing Asia is projected to rise from 4.5 percent in 2022 to 5.2 percent in 2023, then to decline to 4.8 percent in 2024, with downward revisions of 0.1 percentage point and 0.2 percentage point for 2023 and 2024, respectively, compared with July projections. The revision reflects a lower forecast for China, which is revised downward by 0.2 percentage point for 2023 and by 0.3 percentage point for 2024 to growth of 5.0 percent in 2023 and 4.2 percent in 2024. With the property market crisis in that country, lower investment is the main contributor to the revision. Growth in India is projected to remain strong, at 6.3 percent in both 2023 and 2024, with an upward revision of 0.2 percentage point for 2023, reflecting stronger-than-expected consumption during April-June.

Growth in emerging and developing Europe is projected to rise to 2.4 percent in 2023, with an upward revision of 0.6 percentage point since July, before declining to 2.2 percent in 2024. The forecast for Russia is for a rise from -2.1 percent in 2022 to 2.2 percent in 2023, with an upward revision of 0.7 percentage point for 2023. The rise in growth reflects a substantial fiscal stimulus, strong investment, and resilient consumption in the context of a tight labor market. The upward revision for the region for 2023 also reflects an increase of 5.0 percentage points to the forecast for Ukraine to growth of 2.0 percent; the increase is due to stronger-than-expected domestic demand growth, with firms and households adapting to the war in that country amid sharply declining inflation and stable foreign exchange markets. It additionally reflects a 1.0 percentage point upside revision to growth of 4.0 percent in Türkiye, on the back of stronger-than-expected domestic demand.

Latin America and the Caribbean is expected to see growth decline from 4.1 percent in 2022 to 2.3 percent in both 2023 and 2024, although with 0.4 percentage point and 0.1 percentage point upward revisions for 2023 and 2024, respectively, since July. The decline for 2023 reflects a normalization of growth along with the effect of tighter policies, a weaker external environment, and lower commodity prices. The upward revision to 2023 since July reflects stronger-than-expected growth in Brazil, revised upward by 1.0 percentage point to 3.1 percent, driven by buoyant agriculture and resilient services in the first half of 2023. Consumption has also remained strong, supported by fiscal stimulus. The upward revision for the region also reflects stronger-than-expected growth in Mexico, revised upward by 0.6 percentage point to 3.2 percent, with the delayed postpandemic recovery taking hold in construction and services and spillovers from resilient US demand.

Growth in the Middle East and Central Asia is projected to decline from 5.6 percent in 2022 to 2.0 percent in 2023, before picking up to 3.4 percent in 2024, with a 0.5 percentage point downward revision for 2023 and a 0.2 percentage point upward revision for 2024. The change for 2023 is attributable mainly to a steeper-than-expected growth slowdown in Saudi Arabia, from 8.7 percent in 2022 to 0.8 percent in 2023, with a negative revision to the latter of 1.1 percentage point. The downgrade for growth in Saudi Arabia in 2023 reflects announced production cuts, including unilateral cuts and those in line with an agreement through OPEC+. Private investment, including that from “gigaproject” implementation, continues to support non-oil GDP growth, which remains strong and unchanged from previous projections. The downgrade for 2023 also reflects cuts to the growth forecast for Sudan to about -18.3 percent (a downward revision of nearly 20 percentage points) reflecting the outbreak of conflict, deteriorating domestic security, and the worsening humanitarian situation. The upgrade for 2024 reflects the unwinding of some of the announced production cuts.

In sub-Saharan Africa, growth is projected to decline to 3.3 percent in 2023 before picking up to 4.0 percent in 2024, with 0.2 percentage point and 0.1 percentage point downward revisions for 2023 and 2024, respectively, and with growth remaining below the historical average of 4.8 percent. The projected decline reflects, in a number of cases, worsening weather shocks, the global slowdown, and domestic supply issues, including, notably, in the electricity sector. Growth in Nigeria is projected to decline from 3.3 percent in 2022 to 2.9 percent in 2023 and 3.1 percent in 2024, with negative effects of high inflation on consumption taking hold. The forecast for 2023 is revised downward by 0.3 percentage point, reflecting weaker oil and gas production than expected, partially as a result of maintenance work. In South Africa, growth is expected to decline from 1.9 percent in 2022 to 0.9 percent in 2023, with the decline reflecting power shortages, although with a 0.6 percentage point upward revision thanks to the intensity of power shortages in the second quarter of 2023 being lower than expected.

INDIAN ECONOMY

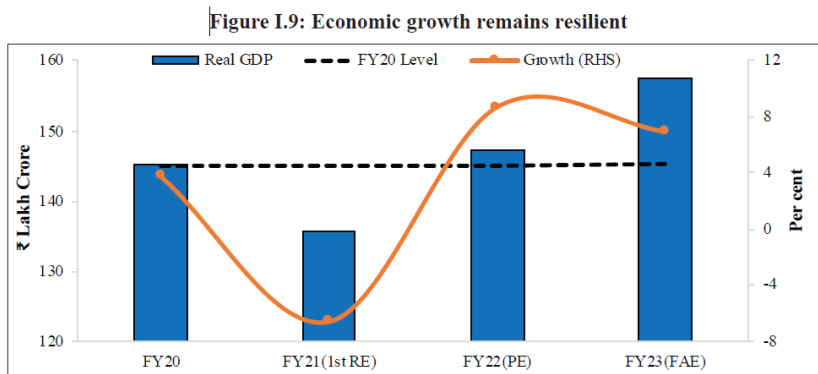

In general, global economic shocks in the past were severe but spaced out in time. This changed in the third decade of this millennium. At least three shocks have hit the global economy since 2020. It all started with the pandemic-induced contraction of the global output, followed by the Russian-Ukraine conflict leading to a worldwide surge in inflation. Then, the central banks across economies led by the Federal Reserve responded with synchronised policy rate hikes to curb inflation. The rate hike by the US Fed drove capital into the US markets causing the US Dollar to appreciate against most currencies. This led to the widening of the Current Account Deficits (CAD) and increased inflationary pressures in net importing economies. The rate hike and persistent inflation also led to a lowering of the global growth forecasts for 2022 and 2023 by the IMF in its October 2022 update of the World Economic Outlook. The frailties of the Chinese economy further contributed to weakening the growth forecasts. Slowing global growth apart from monetary tightening may also lead to a financial contagion emanating from the advanced economies where the debt of the non-financial sector has risen the most since the global financial crisis. With inflation persisting in the advanced economies and the central banks hinting at further rate hikes, downside risks to the global economic outlook appear elevated.

The Indian economy, however, appears to have moved on after its encounter with the pandemic, staging a full recovery in FY22 ahead of many nations and positioning itself to ascend to the pre-pandemic growth path in FY23. Yet in the current year, India has also faced the challenge of reining in inflation that the European strife accentuated. Measures taken by the government and RBI, along with the easing of global commodity prices, have finally managed to bring retail inflation below the RBI upper tolerance target in November 2022. However, the challenge of the depreciating rupee, although better performing than most other currencies, persists with the likelihood of further increases in policy rates by the US Fed. The widening of the CAD may also continue as global commodity prices remain elevated and the growth momentum of the Indian economy remains strong. The loss of export stimulus is further possible as the slowing world growth and trade shrinks the global market size in the second half of the current year.

Despite these, agencies worldwide continue to project India as the fastest-growing major economy at 6.5-7.0 per cent in FY23. These optimistic growth forecasts stem in part from the resilience of the Indian economy seen in the rebound of private consumption seamlessly replacing the export stimuli as the leading driver of growth. The uptick in private consumption has also given a boost to production activity resulting in an increase in capacity utilisation across sectors. The rebound in consumption was engineered by the near-universal vaccination coverage overseen by the government that brought people back to the streets to spend on contact-based services, such as restaurants, hotels, shopping malls, and cinemas, among others. The world's second-largest vaccination drive involving more than 2 billion doses also served to lift consumer sentiments that may prolong the rebound in consumption. Vaccinations have facilitated the return of migrant workers to cities to work in construction sites as the rebound in consumption spilled over into the housing market. This is evident in the housing market witnessing a significant decline in inventory overhang to 33 months in Q3 of FY23 from 42 months last year.

The Capital Expenditure (Capex) of the central government, which increased by 63.4 per cent in the first eight months of FY23, was another growth driver of the Indian economy in the current year, crowding in the private Capex since the January-March quarter of 2022. On current trend, it appears that the full year's capital expenditure budget will be met.

Source: NSO, MoSPI

Note: AE stands for Advanced Estimates, PE stands for Provisional Estimates, RE stands for Revised Estimates

A sustained increase in private Capex is also imminent with the strengthening of the balance sheets of the Corporates and the consequent increase in credit financing it has been able to generate. A much-improved financial health of well-capitalised public sector banks has positioned them better to increase the credit supply. Consequently, the credit growth to the Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector has been remarkably high, over 30.6

per cent, on average during Jan-Nov 2022, supported by the extended Emergency Credit Linked Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) of the Union government. The increase in the overall bank credit has also been influenced by the shift in borrower's funding choices from volatile bond markets, where yields have increased, and external commercial borrowings, where interest and hedging costs have increased, towards banks. If inflation declines in FY24 and if real cost of credit does not rise, then credit growth is likely to be brisk in FY24.

India's economic growth in FY23 has been principally led by private consumption and capital formation. It has helped generate employment as seen in the declining urban unemployment rate and in the faster net registration in Employee Provident Fund. Still, private capex soon needs to take up the leadership role to put job creation on a fast track. Recovery of MSMEs is proceeding apace, as is evident in the amounts of Goods and Services Tax (GST) they pay, while the Emergency Credit Linked Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) is easing their debt servicing concerns. The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS) has been directly providing jobs in rural areas and indirectly creating opportunities for rural households to diversify their sources of income generation. Schemes like PM-Kisan and PM Garib Kalyan Yojana have helped in ensuring food security in the country, and their impact was also endorsed by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)¹. The results of the National Family Health Survey (NFHS) also show improvement in rural welfare indicators from FY16 to FY20, covering aspects like gender, fertility rate, household amenities, and women empowerment.

Global growth has been projected to decline in 2023 and is expected to remain generally subdued in the following years as well. The slowing demand will likely push down global commodity prices and improve India's CAD in FY24. However, a downside risk to the Current Account Balance stems from a swift recovery driven mainly by domestic demand and, to a lesser extent, by exports. The CAD needs to be closely monitored as the growth momentum of the current year spills over into the next. Growth is expected to be brisk in FY24 as a vigorous credit disbursal, and capital investment cycle is expected to unfold in India with the strengthening of the balance sheets of the corporate and banking sectors. Further support to economic growth will come from the expansion of public digital platforms and path-breaking measures such as PM GatiShakti, the National Logistics Policy, and the Production-Linked Incentive schemes to boost manufacturing output.

Macroeconomic and Growth Challenges in the Indian Economy

The impact of the pandemic on India was seen in a significant GDP contraction in FY21. The following year, FY22, the Indian economy started to recover despite the Omicron wave of January 2022. This third wave did not affect economic activity in India as much as the previous waves of the pandemic did since its outbreak in January 2020. Mobility enabled by localised lockdowns, rapid vaccination coverage, mild symptoms and quick recovery from the virus contributed to minimising the loss of economic output in the January-March quarter of 2022. Consequently, output in FY22 went past its pre-pandemic level in FY20, with the Indian economy staging a full recovery ahead of many nations. The experience with the Omicron variant engendered a cautious optimism that it was possible to stay physically mobile and engage in economic activities despite the pandemic. FY23 thus opened with a firm belief that the pandemic was rapidly on the wane and that India was poised to grow at a fast pace and quickly ascend to the pre-pandemic growth path.

However, the conflict in Europe necessitated a revision in expectations for economic growth and inflation in FY23. The country's retail inflation had crept above the RBI's tolerance range in January 2022. It remained above the target range for ten months before returning to below the upper end of the target range of 6 per cent in November 2022. During those ten months, rising international commodity prices contributed to India's retail inflation as also local weather conditions like excessive heat and unseasonal rains, which kept food prices high. The government cut excise and customs duties and restricted exports to restrain inflation while the RBI, like other central banks, raised the repo rates and rolled back excess liquidity.

India's Economic Resilience and Growth Drivers

Monetary tightening by the RBI, the widening of the CAD, and the plateauing growth of exports have essentially been the outcome of geopolitical strife in Europe. As these developments posed downside risks to the growth of the Indian economy in FY23, many agencies worldwide have been revising their growth forecast of the Indian economy downwards. These forecasts, including the advance estimates released by the NSO, now broadly lie in the range of 6.5-7.0 per cent. Despite the downward revision, the growth estimate for FY23 is higher than for almost all major economies and even slightly above the average growth of the Indian economy in the decade leading up to the pandemic. IMF estimates India to be one of the top two fast-growing significant economies in 2022. Despite strong global headwinds and tighter domestic monetary policy, if India is still expected to grow between 6.5 and 7.0 per cent, and that too without the advantage of a base effect, it is a reflection of India's underlying economic resilience; of its ability to recoup, renew and re-energise the growth drivers of the economy.

India's economic resilience can be seen in the domestic stimulus to growth seamlessly replacing the external stimuli. The growth of exports may have moderated in the second half of FY23. However, their surge in FY22 and the first half of FY23 induced a shift in the gears of the production processes from mild acceleration to cruise mode. Manufacturing and investment activities consequently gained traction. By the time the growth of exports moderated, the rebound in domestic consumption had sufficiently matured to take forward the growth of India's economy. Private Consumption as a percentage of GDP stood at 58.4 per cent in Q2 of FY23, the highest among the second quarters of all the years since 2013-14, supported by a rebound in contact-intensive services such as trade, hotel and transport, which registered sequential growth of 16 per cent in real terms in Q2 of FY23 compared to the previous quarter.

Although domestic consumption rebounded in many economies, the rebound in India was impressive for its scale. It contributed to a rise in domestic capacity utilisation. Domestic private consumption remains buoyant in November 2022, as indicated by Motilal Oswal's Economic Activity Index. The index estimates that private consumption grew at a five-month high pace of 5.6 per cent YoY, driven by auto sales and broad-based expansion of services.

India Facade Market:

The India facade market size reached US$ 2,638.2 Million in 2022. Looking forward, the publisher expects the market to reach US$ 4,254.5 Million by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 8.23% during 2023-2028. The increasing construction activities, rising number of commercial spaces, and the growing number of remodeling and upgradation projects represent some of the key factors driving the market.

The facade is an exterior front of a building that comprises roofing, street awnings, and ventilation louvers. It is produced using different materials, such as glass, brick, steel, aluminum, stone, concrete, metal, clay, and wood. It offers an aesthetic appeal to the building and enhanced waterproofing, fabrication, durability, and weather protection. It is generally used in energy efficient buildings for controlling light penetration, regulating internal temperature, and providing thermal insulation. It requires regular maintenance to ensure its longevity and functionality. It is commonly available in several shapes and sizes and can be created as per the requirements of the consumer.

India Facade Market Trends:

The increasing construction activities in the residential areas on account of rapid urbanization and inflating disposable income levels represent one of the key factors driving the demand for façades in India. Moreover, the rising number of commercial spaces, such as shopping malls, restaurants, cafes, offices, hotels, and institutions, is contributing to the market growth. In addition, due to the growing environmental concerns, several measures are being undertaken by the government of India (GoI) to promote the use of sustainable construction materials and minimize carbon emissions. This, coupled with the launch of various government-sponsored public housing programs due to the surging demand for affordable housing units, is driving the adoption of facades in the country. Apart from this, the increasing number of remodeling and upgradation projects for stadiums, airports, railway stations, metro, and hospitals is contributing to the market growth in the country. Furthermore, the rising popularity of polycarbonate facades in industrial and large-scale commercial buildings due to their numerous advantages, including easy installation, weather resistance, and low maintenance costs, is propelling the growth of the market. Besides this, key players operating in India are introducing facades in advanced materials, such as phase change materials (PCM), high reflectance and durable outdoor coatings, and insulation foams with improved strength and visually appealing texture. This, along with the advent of high quality facades that regulates temperature, protects against rain, and resists corrosion to ensure comfortable and durable building on account of changing climatic conditions like heat, humidity, and monsoon is strengthening the growth of the market.

Facade Market Analysis

Global Façade Market is expected to register a CAGR of more than 5% during the forecast period.

- Covid-19 has had a hard hit on the construction sector across the globe, resulting in project delays, labor shortages, and halts in some places due to the pandemic restrictions. Later, after easing the restrictions, the construction sector experienced a slow recovery, currently, some of the regions witnessing significant growth in commercial and residential projects, further driving the façade manufacturing sector.
- Moreover, façade installations are gaining traction across the world, majorly driven by increasing concern towards energy efficiency, and external beautification aspects. In addition, solar facade installations are exercising lucrative growth, and to meet the increasing demand for solar facades most manufacturers are focusing on developing new and advanced solar facades. For instance, in March 2022, a Canadian solar technology manufacturer, Mitrex, launched the Solar Brick, which looks like a brick wall, but has embedded solar modules. These modules are lightweight and durable and can store energy, which is enough to power the building.
- Furthermore, increasing commercial and residential projects across the globe fuels the façade's adoption. For instance, in 2022, in Europe, the King Baudouin Foundation planned to fund more than EUR 500,000 (USD 534,175) to support 11 projects to green the public space by creating vertical gardens on the facades of public buildings throughout Belgium. In addition, more than 28 projects were submitted for greening the outer walls of hospitals, town halls, libraries, cultural centers, sports facilities, swimming pools, museums, theatres, libraries, and community centers, out of which nearly 11 projects were selected. Thus, the façade market is witnessing lucrative growth across the globe.

Facade Market Trends

Asia Pacific is Witnessing Significant Growth

Asia Pacific is experiencing a significant number of construction projects, and the region is widely focusing on external wall beautification and energy efficiency factors, these factors are driving the installation of the facades in the country. In addition, rapid urbanization in developing countries such as India, Japan, China, etc. driving the demand for façade installations in the region. For instance, in September 2022, China unveiled the world’s most twisted towers, also known as the Dance of Light skyscraper. This 180-meter tall tower was enveloped with facades.

Moreover, façade installations are gaining traction in the region, majorly due to increasing commercial and residential property development. For instance, in December 2022, China Evergrande Group planned to resume its work on 631 pre-sold and undelivered projects to meet its property delivery charger. In addition, the property developer delivered more than 256,000 units between January to November of 2022, and they expect to deliver nearly 300,000 units by the end of 2023.

Meanwhile, façade greening is witnessing significant growth in the region. In addition, India and Japan are actively adopting façade greening techniques to reach their sustainability targets. In addition, to create a quality of life against rising temperatures due to climate change and building densification, façade greening plays a vital role in urban areas. Moreover, the green office concept also promotes the façade greening technology. In 2022, as per industry experts, Tokyo, Japan, had the largest inventory of green offices among the 12 Asia-Pacific areas. Also, Tokyo owns nearly 9 million square meters of environmentally certified office spaces.

Commercial Sector is Driving the Facades Installation

Most countries are focusing on developing commercial buildings and office spaces that are energy efficient. In the upcoming years, it is anticipated that increased spending on the renovation of aging office buildings would increase demand for façade installations. A growing need for aesthetic appearance in commercial buildings has emerged in recent years, which has fuelled the expansion of the façade market.

Moreover, commercial and industrial witnessed significant growth despite the recession. In addition, the United States construction sector has outperformed Canada and Mexico over the past 18 months. Meanwhile, North America and Europe regions are experiencing a significant number of commercial projects. For instance, in Q2 2022, construction of the Keystone Trade Center was started in the United States, and the Eight Office Tower was started, which involves in the construction of 50,167 square meters and a 25-story office tower in Bellevue, Washington, etc. these projects will boost the façade installations.

Furthermore, the commercial sector in the European region is witnessing a positive number of investments, resulting in the construction of new projects, further driving the façade installation market. However, in Q1 2022, cross-border real estate transactions increased. In addition, the EMEA region, consisting of Europe, the Middle East, and Africa, received the largest volume of cross-border transactions amounting to USD 36.4 billion. Thus, the growing commercial sector across the globe will create a huge opportunity for façade manufacturers.

Different types of facades

The facade combines attributes of both appearance as well as superior performance in a manner, unlike any other building system. It is often the most important aspect from a design standpoint, as it sets the tone for the rest of the building. The term 'façade' can refer to any predominantly vertical face of a building envelope, such as an external wall. Sometimes the term 'façade' is used to refer more specifically to external faces of buildings that have particular architectural emphasis, such as an imposing design, decoration, the main entrance to the building and so on. Given below are different types of facades for building structures.

Steel façade

A variety of steel components may be used in modern facade systems, such as Steel profiled sheets and composite (sandwich) panels, Flat and rigidized cassette panels with folded edges, Light steel infill walls, Hollow steel sections, Stainless steel glazing support systems, to name a few.

Panel frame façade

Panel facades are framed by mullions on the vertical edges and transoms on the horizontal edges. Mullions and transoms are thermally broken to prevent cold bridging through the element so that condensation does not occur. Unitized curtain walling is identifiable by the presence of split mullions and transoms on the panel perimeters. These structural shapes are cheap to manufacture in large quantities once a die has been made.

Curtain Walling façade

Curtain walling is the generic name given to metallic lightweight cladding or glazed cladding systems that are directly supported by a structural frame. In some cases, a stone veneer or large tiled fascia may be attached to give the appearance of a more monolithic cladding system.

Clay façade

Clay facades are nothing but the panels made of terracotta that can be cladded on the exterior walls or facade of any building. Though glass and aluminium based facades have been recent additions to Indian cityscapes, borrowed largely from the west, but clay facades like facing bricks or clay facade tiles have been in use for many years. Clay facades are the outcome of sophisticated technology and advanced firing processes and hence are highly resistant to the exterior environment. When compared to paint, which can look smudged with dust and dirt, clay facades, retain the colour for a longer period of time. Since they are made of terracotta. Their weather resistance power makes them highly durable which last for decades.

Steel and glass façade

Steel and glass are synergistic materials and are often used in facades and roofs of multi-storey buildings. The glass panels are generally supported by separate vertical steel elements to the main structural frame of the building that may be internal or external to the building. Stainless steel and hollow steel sections are often used in combination with glass.

Double-skin façade

This is formed of two glass walls separated by a cavity on south-facing elevations and are used to reduce the energy consumption of a building. Shading devices are usually mounted in the cavity and, depending on its width, walkways for access and cleaning. This type of façade has many variations in the arrangement. The two skins form a thermal buffer zone and passive solar gains in the cavity reduce heat losses in winter. If the cavity ventilation is integrated with the building services, air heated by the sun can be introduced into the building, providing good natural ventilation and reducing the heating load and vice versa during summer.

Aluminum Composite façade

Aluminum Composite Panel Cladding (ACP) is a widely-used term, describing flat panels that consist of thermoplastic core bonds between two aluminum sheets. ACPs are frequently used for external cladding of buildings (building facades). The main advantage of ACP is that it is very rigid and strong, despite its lightweight. Due to the ability to paint the aluminum in any color, ACPs are produced in a wide range of metallic and non-metallic colors as well as patterns that imitate other materials, such as wood or marble. Applications of ACPs are not limited to the building's external cladding; they can be used in any cladding application, partitions, false ceilings etc.

Solar shading façade

Solar shading facade is a form of solar control that can be used to optimise the amount of solar heat gain and visible light that is admitted into a building. This can have a significant impact on the energy use of a building as well as on the thermal and visual comfort of occupants, protecting against overheating and glare on hot or sunny days. There is a wide variety of solar shading systems that may be used and incorporated as part of the building façade. There are: oval shaped horizontal steel elements that span horizontally between external columns and their size and spacing is designed to reduce the intensity of solar gain.

Glazing façade

Modern glazing facades are made of attachments to 2 or 4 separate glass panels using stainless steel brackets, also known as 'spiders' because of their multiple legs. The attachments to the glass panels are generally made by stainless steel brackets with neoprene gaskets through the glass, as shown below. These attachments permit articulation due to thermal and structural movements so that local stresses on the glass are minimised.

Insulated wall façade

Insulated wall facades are interlocking, composite metal-faced sandwich panels or concrete panels with insulation between internal and external concrete elements. Steel-faced insulated panels are frequently used on single storey and low-rise industrial buildings. Panels are usually designed to span one-way (either vertically or horizontally) and are made to suit commonly-used frame spacings without intermediate supports. Various insulation materials are available such as expanded polyurethane (PUR), polyisocyanurate (PIR) and mineral fibre with a range of insulating, fire-resisting and other physical properties.

Homeostatic façade

Homeostatic façade consists of an engineered ribbon, inside the cavity of a double-skin glass façade. The ribbon is made of dielectric elastomers: polymer materials that can be polarized by applying an electrical current. These materials are also flexible and consume very little power. Both sides of the dielectric material are coated with silver electrodes. This silver layer reflects light, and also distributes electrical charge across the material, causing it to deform. This helps the façade to regulate temperature inside the building.

The growth of the façade and fenestration industry is complemented by the growth of the real-estate sector in India and around the world. The real-estate sector is one of the most globally recognized sectors.

Real-Estate Sector

The real estate sector is one of the most globally recognized sectors. It comprises of four sub-sectors - housing, retail, hospitality, and commercial. The growth of this sector is well complemented by the growth in the corporate environment and the demand for office space as well as urban and semi-urban accommodation. The construction industry ranks third among the 14 major sectors in terms of direct, indirect and induced effects in all sectors of the economy.

India's real estate sector is expected to expand to US$ 5.8 trillion by 2047, contributing 15.5% to the GDP from an existing share of 7.3%.

In FY23, India's residential property market witnessed with the value of home sales reaching an all-time high of Rs. 3.47 lakh crore (US$ 42 billion), marking a robust 48% year-on-year increase. The volume of sales also exhibited a strong growth trajectory, with a 36% rise to 379,095 units sold.

HOUSING MARKET

According to India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra), the housing industry in India is predicted to continue its momentum with sales increasing at a rate of 9% year-over-year in the current fiscal year 2023-24, supported by a steady and healthy demand.

Grade I players are projected to see better liquidity than lower tiers in 2023-24 and sales growth of 15-18% on-year.

Residential sales in the top eight Indian cities, including Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR), Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, National Capital Region (NCR), Pune, Ahmedabad, and Kolkata, increased by 18% year-over-year to 392 million square feet in 2022-23, according to Liases Foras data as of March 2023. This increase was driven by a consistent and healthy demand.

Following the pandemic, there was a sharp rise in demand for housing, driven by buyers' revived interest and improved perceptions.

Product	Descriptions
Structural Glazing System - Unitised	It is a pre-assembled parcel system, in which full panel has been assembled on floor including glass pasting, then the panel must be hanged on pre fixed brackets. Other benefits are speed of installation, minimal on site labour and lower installation costs, reduced scaffolding requirements.
Structural Glazing System - Semi Unitised	It is a semi assembled panel system, in which framing need to be installed first on each floor and then pre-fabricated structural glass panels to be fixed on that framing. Suited to angular and complex facades construction.
Cladding	Cladding is the application of one material over another to provide a skin or layer. Preferred with varieties of cladding material such as high-pressure laminate cladding, aluminum composite panel , aluminum solid sheet and others with base structure of aluminum / MS structure
Point Glazing/ Spider Glazing	A frameless glazing façade through a web of glass sheet sealed together from the building structure Fixed directly on MS / SS and GLASS fins for maximum light and transparency Suited to very large, monumental spaces, such as convention centres, airport lobbies, multiplexes, malls and shopping complexes
Windows and Doors	Performance windows now in demand used for high-rise and high end project with high performance glass, These high end Aluminium windows and doors system insulates much better than the old single-pane windows and doors, significantly reducing heat loss in winter and heat gain in summer.
Curtain Wall Systems	Curtain wall systems are basically the stick type glazing systems wherein the mullions and transoms are installed on the building

OUR BUSINESS PROCESS

Tender bidding/ Quotation and obtaining tender: Most of the projects undertaken by us are receipt through tender bidding or quotation process. Our management evaluate the work required in the project and based on that make an application for the tender. Once we apply for the tender the customer evaluates the proposal. The evaluation of the tenders is based on the past work experiences, quality, design and price quotation made by us. In case we qualify, the work order is issued to our company.

Visit to site for inspection: Once the tender is obtained, a visit of site is conducted to evaluate the design work and other site planning activities.

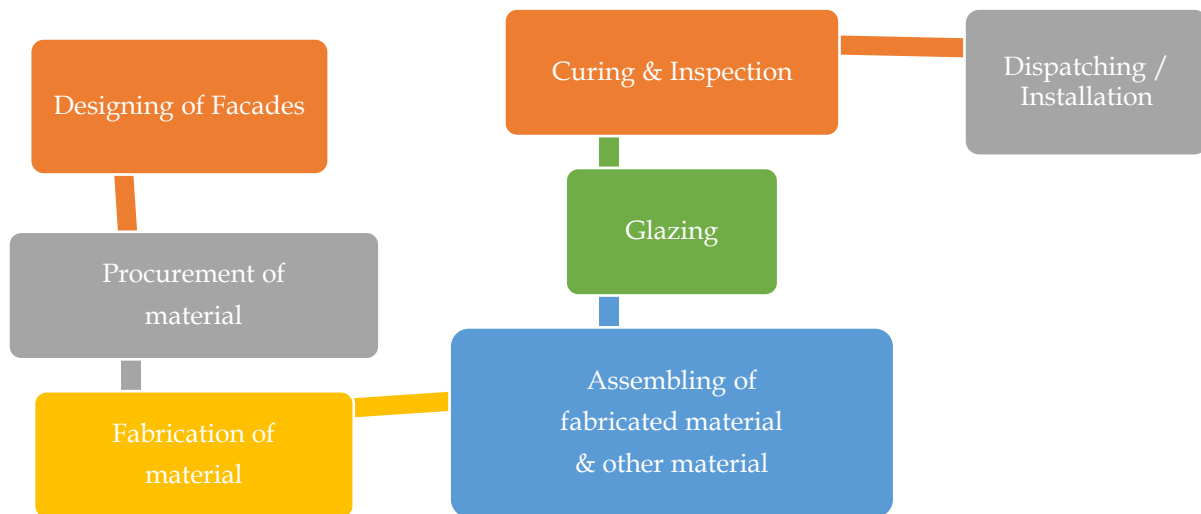

System approval & Designing: On receipt of the work order and site inspection, we undertake the designing and site planning activities in consultation with the Architects. This step helps in understanding the material and labour requirements at the site. Designing is an integral process as it lays out the foundation of the structure to be developed. Before procurement of material, we study and take approval of the shop drawings from the client in consultation with their Architects so as to avoid any misunderstandings at later stage. Our Company has also engaged V-Vanguard as service provide for the project.

Material Mobilization: Based on the material requirements at the project site, we place orders for the material required at the site based on the customers specifications. We also provide the delivery schedule to the vendors so that these are no material shortage at the project sites.

Fabrications – This process involves undertaking the required fabrications activities at the project site. Our team in consultation with the client and architect conceptualise the façade system to be developed for the project. We supervise the work being undertaken at the project site to ensure that the same comply with the design and standards mentioned in the work order. We also take services of third-party fabricators in installation of façade.

Installations: After the fabrication activities are completed and installed, the site is inspected by the customer.

OUR FABRICATION PROCESS

Our fabrication process can be explained as follows:

Designing of facades:

After procuring a contract, our team in consultation with the client and architect conceptualise the façade system to be developed for the project. Designing is an integral process as it lays out the foundation of the structure to be developed. Before procurement of material, we study and take approval of the shop drawings from the client so as to avoid any misunderstandings at later stage.

Procurement of material:

Once the designs are approved by the client, we procure the material required for the development of facades. The major materials used in development of facades and other allied products are glass, aluminium composite panels, aluminum profiles, mild steel, GI sheet, sealant, gasket & hardwares, etc. We procure materials required in our installation of façade systems from domestic market. We store the inventory at shed at site only.

We majorly procure the material from our vendors situated at Delhi, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka.

Fabrication of material:

Fabrication involves all processing needed to prepare the materials required for unit assembly, with the aluminum extrusions one of the key processes. We generally procured aluminium from our regular suppliers and get it anodised, coated from third parties. They are often painted prior to fabrication. Processing of the extrusions involves various combinations of notching, punching, drilling, and cutting to length. Gaskets are often installed on the extruded framing components as part of the fabrication process. Glass, as the predominant infill cladding material, is ordered to fit requiring no further processing, and the same is true of most other cladding components required for unit assembly.

Assembling:

The assembly process is comprised of building up the unit frames by screwing together the fabricated framing components. Anchors and lifting lugs are attached to the frames as required to facilitate lifting the units in the field and attaching them to the building. Remaining gaskets, glazing tape, backer rod, and other materials are applied to the frames as appropriate.

Glazing:

Structurally glazed systems create a greater transparency than traditional captured systems. There are less visual interruptions due to the lack of metal on the exterior (and potentially the interior), creating a seamless, continuous glass look. Glazing is one of the most important part of the process.

Curing & Inspection:

Silicone sealant and structural silicone is then applied to adhere and/or seal the panel materials within the frame. The silicone is a two-part material with a cure time as short as only a couple of hours. We have a proper stake panel to provide 24 hrs minimum for curing which ensures good bonding & proper stability of silicon.

Dispatch:

The units are then cleaned and carefully bunked (packed) at building site for finalisation. We also take services of third party fabricators in fabrication and installation of façade.

We carry out the activity at the site itself depending upon the situation and the project requirements. Entire activity is being undertaken under the continuous supervision of our Engineers and Supervisors.

Also, we export the façade related material such as Glass, Aluminium, Aluminium Composite Panel (ACP), High Pressure Laminate (HPL), Silicon and Fasteners to our foreign clients situated at TOGO West Africa, GHANA West Africa. We have established relationships with the reliable vendors, we work with suppliers to ensure best quality products, timely services and smooth transaction process. The goods consignment is being delivered directly to our customers by our supplier. In exporting of goods, we identify the requirement of customer, source & procure the goods and supply to our customers. After the getting the order from client, our team is active to procure the best quality products as per specification, we place the order to Our supplier with specification where the goods are packed, After packing & loading the goods in containers, Invoices and custom documents are prepared and the goods are delivered at nearest Custom warehouse, Thereafter, the goods are inspected by the custom authorities and necessary documents are filed with custom, After assessment of the documents, shipping bill and examination of goods, the export consignment is permitted by Customs for ultimate export.

Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the UPI Circular proposes to introduce and implement the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Under this phase, a Retail Individual Applicant would also have the option to submit the Application Form with any of the intermediary and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase commenced on completion of Phase I i.e. with effect from July 1, 2019 and was to be continued for a period of three months or launch of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Further, as per the SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, the UPI Phase II has been extended until March 31, 2020. Further still, as per SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, the current Phase II of Unified Payments Interface with Application Supported by Blocked Amount be continued till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the Application Form by a Retail Individual Applicant through intermediaries to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 ("T+3 Notification").
